Terms, Conditions and Guarantees

Bulls become the risk and responsibility of the purchaser as soon as sold, but will be fed and watered for 24 hours. Seller hereby warrants, that to his knowledge, each bull is free of injury or disease, at the time the animal enters the sale ring.

All bulls sold through the sale ring are guaranteed to be breeders. This guarantee comes from the consignor covering his bulls. Buyer, suspecting a bull purchased is not a capable breeder, must notify the seller within six months of the date of sale. At that time the buyer and seller agree on a competent veterinarian, reasonably close to the buyer, who will perform the necessary examinations. The buyer will be responsible for the cost. If it is determined that a bull is a non-breeder, the seller is required to settle with the buyer by one of the following methods: (1) Compensate buyer for the difference between beef value of the bull and the purchase price (2) Return the entire purchase price and take the bull back (3) Replace the bull with another of comparable quality and value. If the seller elects, replacement of the bull or return of the sale price shall be considered by all parties as payment in full.

Disputes that cannot be settled between buyer and seller should be referred to the sale management. In such case, the decision of the sale management shall be binding on all parties.

The sale management acts only as a medium between buyer and seller and is not responsible for representations or actions of the buyer or seller or their agents. Terms of the sale are cash. Each bull shall be sold to the highest bidder. Phone and mail bids are accepted. The auctioneer will settle any disputes in the ring. Neither the sale committee, Shasta Livestock Auction nor its employees or sales management shall assume liability for accidents.
